MEd in Adult Learning & Education

In partnership with the Justice Institute of British Columbia (JIBC)

FACE-TO-FACE WITH SOME ONLINE COMPONENTS • 10 TERMS • PART-TIME

STARTS SEPTEMBER 2020 • APPLY BY MARCH 31!

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Taking place at the Justice Institute of British Columbia in New Westminster, this MEd in Adult Learning and Education (ALE) is a professional degree for those who want to enhance their knowledge and skills as practitioners in any setting where adults are learning.

From basic literacy to continuing professional development, Adult Learning and Education has a crucial role to play in empowering adults everywhere. This 30-credit cohort will explore the role of ALE in addressing a number of pressing issues, including the climate crisis, social and economic dislocation due to disruptive technologies, growing inequality, forced migration and displacement, and assaults on democratic institutions.

While previous experience working with adult learners is an asset, anyone who is interested in the following is encouraged to apply:

- Teaching
- Planning
- Administration
- Policy
- Advocacy
